4. New captains shall participate in their team player selection on the call of the President.
5. Captains and Couples Selection
  - a. The captains and their spouses and any family members are placed on their appropriate team roster.
  - b. If there is an even number of players on each team, the larger sum of each teams ratings will be used to determine which captain will select the first couple. If the team ratings are the same, a coin toss will determine first pick.
  - c. If there are an odd number of players, the captain with the fewer players will select a couple.
    - i. If a family member is part of the odd number of players, an offsetting pick of the same rating will be done to balance the teams prior to selecting their next couple.
  - d. When all couples have been picked and there are an odd number of selected players, players of similar rating of the last picked players will be selected to balance their team.
  - e. When all couples are picked the Single Player Selection is started.
6. Single Player Selection
  - a. The ladies and men's player selection will be held independent and determined by a coin toss or other means.
  - b. The winner of the toss may choose to select first or second.
  - c. The first pick is one player, the second pick is two players, and then alternate single player picks until all players have been chosen.
  - d. The captain may select anyone from the player's pool regardless of ability rating.
7. After the team selection has been completed, the captains will review the teams for balance and may decide to negotiate a trade of players to achieve a more even team balance.
8. Should the captains be unable to agree on a particular issue or the President determines that an imbalance does exist; the President shall arbitrate a solution.
